Introduction -

The NSS Unit of KCT's Late G. N. Sapkal College of Engineering actively participated in the Savitribai Phule Pune University's NSS Virtual Wari program, showcasing commendable dedication and enthusiasm in carrying out various impactful activities. Despite the challenges posed by the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic, the NSS volunteers demonstrated resilience and community spirit.

1. Swachh Wari:

Volunteers engaged in a cleanliness drive both in their immediate surroundings and at their homes. This hands-on activity not only contributed to a cleaner environment but also promoted a sense of responsibility towards maintaining hygiene in the community.

2. Swasth Wari:

In response to the Covid-19 pandemic, students conducted a family survey to raise awareness about the virus and its preventive measures. The volunteers diligently uploaded details of 640 families onto the university portal, aiding in the compilation of valuable data. Additionally, they compiled a list of blood donors, essential in times of emergencies, showcasing a proactive approach to community health.

3. Nirmal Wari:

NSS Volunteers took the initiative to raise awareness about Open Defecation Free (ODF) practices and the importance of refraining from spitting in public spaces. Despite the limitations of online communication, students effectively conveyed the message, emphasizing the significance of maintaining cleanliness in public areas.

4. Harit Wari:

Recognizing the importance of environmental sustainability, volunteers actively participated in tree plantation activities. Planting trees in and around their homes contributed to the larger cause of environmental conservation, demonstrating a commitment to a greener and healthier future.

Despite the challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic, the NSS Unit of KCT's Late G. N. Sapkal College of Engineering showcased exemplary dedication, creativity, and community engagement in the SPPU NSS Virtual Wari program. The impact of these activities resonates not only in the immediate community but also contributes to the broader goals of public health, cleanliness, and environmental sustainability. The NSS volunteers' proactive approach and commitment to social welfare are indeed commendable and reflect the true spirit of community service.
