Description / Explanation of the Program:

January 3 marks the birth anniversary of Savitribai Phule. Savitribai Phule is known for pioneering the women's rights movement in India way before it became the norm. She started the first-ever school for women in Pune in 1848. In her fight for education for women, she was assisted by her husband Mahatma Jyotirao Phule.

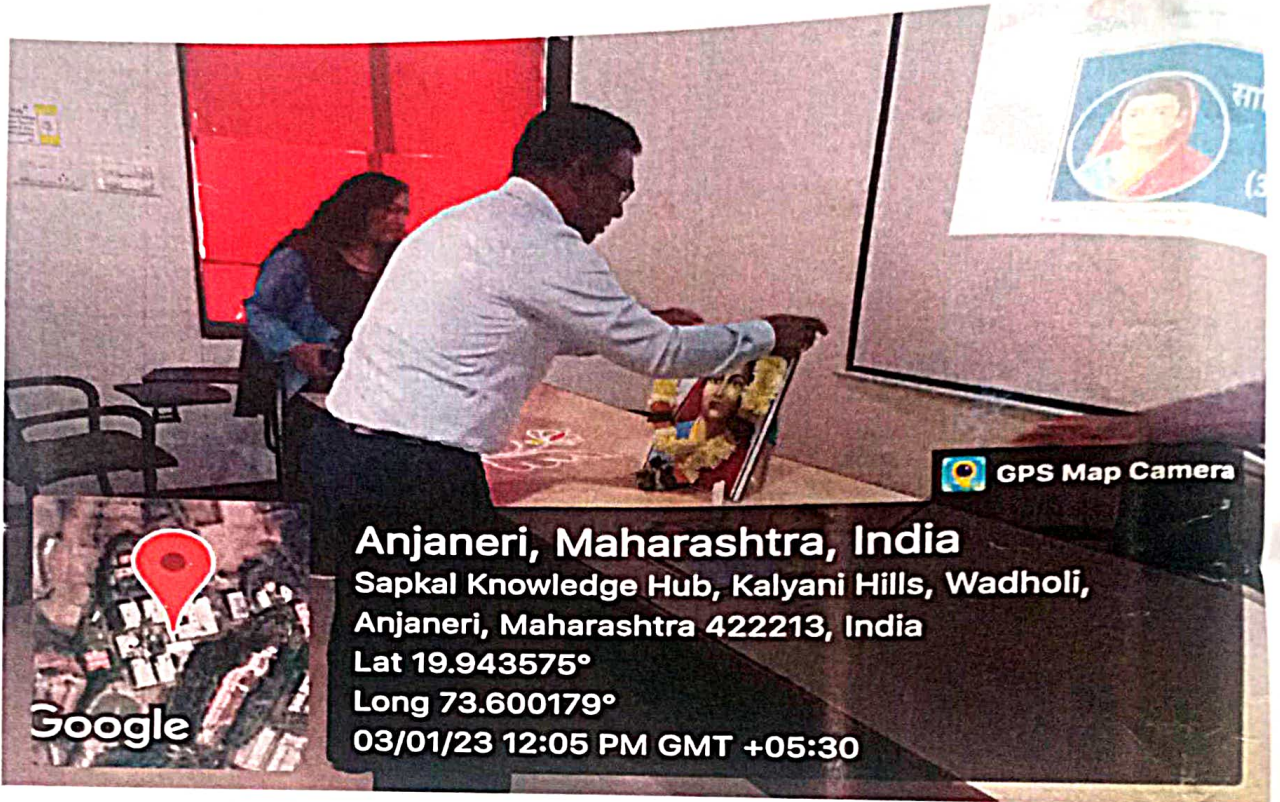

Department of E&TC engineering organized the program on Birth Anniversary of Savitribai Phule for all staff in Department. The Principal Sir has addressed to all students, the great work done by Savitribai Phule in educational field. It was a 1 hour program which included speeches on Savitribai Phule, and having debate on the topic girls THEN and NOW And it was done so fantastic. Staff actively participated in this program. This beautiful program ended with refreshment.

Outcome of the Event:

Remembered for Savitribai Phule significant contributions towards women's education and the empowerment of women in India.

Description / Explanation of the Program:

Department of Electrical engineering organized One day seminar on occasion of “Human Rights Day” for all students in campus. Students actively present for the seminar. In that, mam tell the importance of Gender equality. Gender equality prevents violence against women and girls. It's essential for economic prosperity. Societies that value women and men as equal are safer and healthier. Gender equality is a human right. A just society should provide equal opportunities for all its residents, irrespective of race or gender. "These men ask for just the same thing: fairness, and fairness only. This is, so far as in my power, they, and all others, shall have.

Women's Safety Rights You Need To Be Aware Of Right Against Being Stalked, Right Against Workplace Harassment, Right Against Domestic Violence, Right Against Dowry, Right to Free Legal Aid, National Commission for Women Act, 1990, Right

Not To Be Arrested At Night, Right To Anonymity. Also these include the right to live free from violence and discrimination; to enjoy the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health; to be educated; to own property; to vote; and to earn an equal wage.

Here are eight different ways you can help us support women's movements across the globe and ensure the rights of all women are respected, valued and realized. Raise your voice, Volunteer, Start a fundraiser, Attend marches and protests, Donate to women's movements and organizations, Shop smartly, Challenge events.

Prof. S. S. Tidke, Prof. P.R.Gajare, Prof. R. U. Pawar & other staff of Electrical department were present for this program. Thus overall, the event was a great success

A one day seminar on "Personality Development Programme" was organized by Department of E&TC, LGNSCOE, Nashik on 08th March 2022 on the occasion of "International Women's Day". The main objective of the Workshop was to familiarize participants with the emerging ideas and trends on how to develop personality in the 21st century contexts. The programme also aimed to teach participants to work with various professionals, people and groups to understand the meaning of life and work in the present context; to enhance their communication skills and interpersonal skills in order to function in professional and social settings effectively; to enrich the academic language skills (writing and presentation skills) for academic writing and presentations; to understand effective planning, time management and implementation for setting goals and achieving both personal and professional goals; to learn to evaluate oneself (self appraisal and introspection) for further growth, personally and professionally

The seminar adopted the processes demonstration-cum-discussion, presentation/lecture-cum-discussion, and film / video viewing.

Program Objectives:

- Enhancement of gender roles and standards for women and men, elimination of restricting standards.
- Same personal freedoms for women and men, protection against all forms of aggression.
- Equal career opportunities for women and men.
- Fair distribution of unpaid and paid work among women and men, wages and salaries that both can live on independently.
- Equality of women and men with regard to society.

Summary of the talk:

Function start with Saraswati Vandana after some formalities when actual session start by Asawari Mam. She started session with some statements like Girls are gentle, boys are not; Men's are good at logical and analytical thinking; Women's are creative and autistics etc. With the help of such statements she wanted to explain biological and social discrimination. Basically she explained the difference between Sex, Sexuality & Gender. Gender is a social norm created by society. According to her both the gender are equally important and both should share opportunities and responsibilities in equal measure.

She has completed her Masters in Social Work from Nirmala Niketan - Mumbai University and working in the field of social work from last 15 years. During this tenure she learned and understands the government department & their structure. She is having good liasoning skills and with the help of these skills she builds healthy relations with Government department, Media & NGO'S also. She is having a strong experience of policy advocacy & good technical knowledge of HIV / RTI / STI / infection prevention of OT etc. She imparts lectures on GENDER EQUALIYT, Sexual harassment at work place, child sexual abuse, and adolescent health at various Schools & Colleges.

She has received many awards for her work, some of them are

Description / Explanation of the Program:

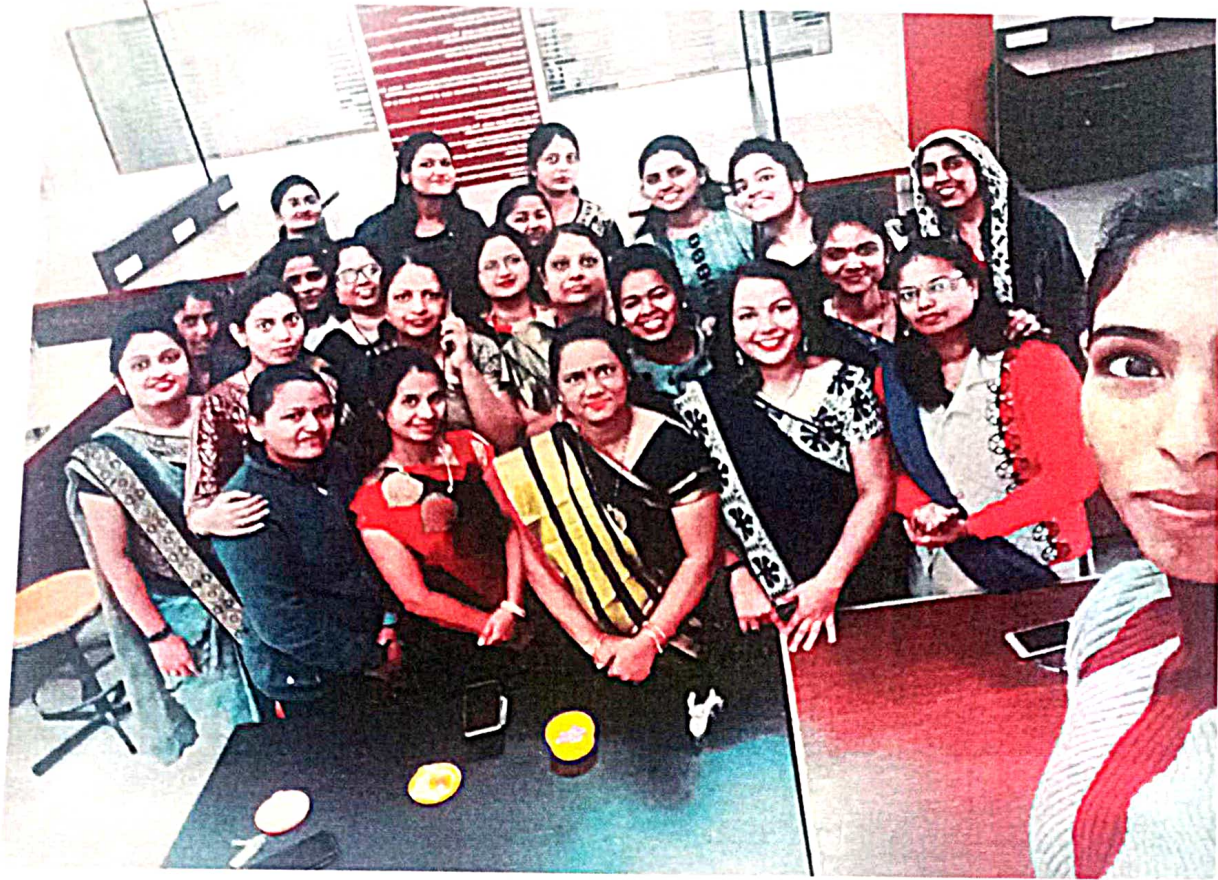

Department of E&TC engineering organized the women's day celebration on the occasion of international women's day, for all ladies staff in campus. It was a long day celebration which included group discussion. All women associate were looking stunning in a colorful attires. Staff actively participated in this program. The theme for International Women's Day (8 March) this year, "Think Equal, Build Smart, Innovate for Change", puts innovation by women and girls, for women and girls, at the heart of efforts to achieve gender equality. All ladies shared their thoughts on why women are the real architect of the society. Ladies also shared their tales of struggle and success this beautiful celebration ended with refreshment.

Outcome of the Event:

International Women's Day is marked by celebrating all aspects of a women's life. From being a housewife and taking care of her family to working as a professional outside home, the day aims to celebrate everything a woman does for her loved ones and for society. The day is also significant to make people aware of women's rights, safety and gender equality.

PROGRAM REPORT

Title of the Program: "Organic Sanitary Napkin for Menstrual Hygiene"

Objective of the Program:

1. Reduce the girl child school dropout due to lack of sanitary towels
2. Educate teenage girls on puberty, hygiene menstruation and how to physically and psychologically handle such periods.
3. Sustain marginalized girls with annual packs of sanitary pads and underwear's to ensure periods do not get in their way of achieving an education.
4. Eliminate through informing, the myths, taboos and misinformation that people in such communities have about girls during their menstrual period.
5. To increase awareness among adolescent girls on menstrual hygiene, build Self-esteem, and empower girls for greater socialization
6. To increase access to and use of high quality sanitary napkins by adolescent girls in rural areas.
7. To ensure safe disposal of sanitary napkins in an environment friendly manner.

Nature of the Program: Seminar

Resource Person details:

Mr. Swapnil Nandkumar Neeta (8381021555), Setup india, Dr. Sahebrao B. Bagal, Dr. Sachin S. Harak, Prof. Tushar Y. Badgujar, & staff members.

Content Description / Summary:

The Seminar session was organized at Engineering Seminar hall on 26th June 2018, in the presence of students & staff members.

A woman enters the store, picks up a pack or mumbles the name of the brand she wants under her breath to the storekeeper, who proceeds to wrap the product in an old newspaper and hands it to her in a black plastic bag. She pays in awkward silence before hurriedly exiting the shop.

That's typically how a woman buys a pack of sanitary napkins in India, where the topic of menstrual hygiene is usually not discussed in genteel company, let alone in public. So how does one begin to ask questions about what goes into the making of a product that people are hesitant to even mention aloud?

Further, since sanitary napkins are classified as "medical products", companies are not required by law to disclose what goes into their making on product packs.

There is no research to attest that sanitary napkins sold in India are safe. But the use of some chemicals in the feminine hygiene products raises questions over how safe they really are.

"It is a sanitary napkin. Its purpose is not just to absorb. Hygiene parameters of the product, of how safe they are, should be disclosed on the packets. Unfortunately, people choose sanitary napkins based on the cost, design and packaging," said Bhawana Chanana, associate professor in the department of fabric and apparel science at Lady Irwin College, Delhi University.

"But the main consideration really should be hygiene— what's the pH range, for instance. But women don't ask simply because they are embarrassed and this has worked to the advantage of the manufacturers and sellers," added Chanana, who said she has come across instances where products rejected in the US or Germany have been recycled in India.

Remark about outcome of program:

A documentary on the life of Padmashree Arunachalam Muruganantham (Padman) (born 1962) is a social entrepreneur from Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu, India is shown to the students of Institute.

The Seminar was conducted very enthusiastically in the presence of students & teachers. The speaker shared their views & had given the valuable guidance to the students about different aspects related to the use of Organic Sanitary Napkin for Menstrual Hygiene.
