Duration: 11.30am - 1 pm

Venue: Mechanical Seminar Hall

Details of Participants: Female = 8 Male = 114

Name of the Speakers with communication details:

Rohan Tripathi (IEI), Husain Masalawala (IEI), Sachin Pawar (IEI) MESA President

Program Objectives:

The program mainly focuses on the quality of engineers in today's period. The need for extra activities and courses such as learning software were explained to the students. The goal was making students understand the things that held them back in securing a good job.

Summary of the talk:

There was an elite team from IEI (Institution of engineers, India) who conducted the seminar. The program was started with Rohan Tripathi sir explaining the status of a Indian engineering Society, which helped students think over the facts off quality engineering. There was a presentation displaying the employment rate in India which showed student the reality. The councilors were keen on letting students understand the need of extra activities. The session was continued by Husain Masalawala Sir, a former student of L.G.N.S.college of engineering. He explained the increasing need of software's which helped in product designing , analyzing and manufacturing. He also solved problems in front of students making the understand the need of learning a software precisely. He displayed his hands-on skills on AUTO CAD in which he demonstrated the use of commands and shortcuts. Projects were displayed which were designed by the speaker which intrigued most of student minds. The session was held in three main part that were designing, analyzing and manufacturing.
